POP SMITH RELEASED TO BOSTO

He Will Leave at Once and Dunlap W

GENERAL BASEBALL NEWS OF THE D

Play To-Day.

Anson and his delegation of ball players defeated the home club quite easily yesterday. Sowders was hit extremely hard. Pop Smith has been released to Boston and will leave for that city at once. Dunlap will play second to-day. There were some exciting ball games in the League and As-

If there is anything like an off day in the affairs of baseball the home team certainly was over head and ears in an off day yesterday. Why, Anson and his Chicks simply knocked the life out of our champions at Recreation Park, in presence of about 1,700 very disconsolate spectators. The home talent were never equal to the occasion when it came down to a matter of playing, and if Captain Adrian never meets any more formidable foe than he met yesterday there is certainly a 100 to 1 on his delegation getting the pennant,

There is no excuse whatever for the defeat except the fact that the visitors put up a better game than the local men. If that is taken as an excuse, then the entire explanation is given It looked as if the home representatives had dropped contentedly into the old rut of defeat. True, there was plenty of slugging going, but, unfortunately, the other fellows had the lion's share of it. They banged the ball all over the lot and it is likely that the covers of several spheres are lying scattered about the outfield of the park.

Sowders was thumped, and no mistake about it. He lacked speed and control to a very great extent, and it may be a question as to whether UNFORTUNATE BASES ON BALLS were the more disastrous. At any rate both combined made a very sorry show of the home When it is stated that the visitors sarned eight big runs it will be well understood that some slugging was going on. Van Haltren and Farreil seemed as if they couldn't miss the ball. An extremely poor hitter like Bastian, who has only made two hits since he joined the Chicago club, was given his base on balls three times, and each time he scored. The fielding

Hanlon had scarcely got to the plate ere Dwyer hit him with the ball. Carroll then rapped a single to right field and Beckley reached firs on Burns' fumble of a grounder. Miller made a fine sacrifice and Hanlon scored Carroll gesting to third. Rowe followed with another sacrifice fly to Ryan and Carroll scored. Maul went out at first, retiring the side. HELPED BY FUMBLES. In the second inning White reached first on another fumble by Burns and Smith made a good single to left, White reaching second. Sowders made a sacrifice hit, and White got to the third. The bases were now full, and White was retired at the plate on Hanlon's short hit to Anson. Carroll's single brought Smith home and another good single seat Smith across the plate, making the two runs. Rowe led off in the third inning by a single 'o middle, and Maul got his base on balls. White's sacrifice sent Rowe to third, but he was nabled at the plate on Smith's grounder to Pfeffer. Sowders made a single to right and Maul got home, but Hanlon flew out to Ryan, retiring the side.

In the seventh inning Miller led off with a hit to center for a base and Rowe was hit by a pitched ball. Maul got to first on the out of Rowe at second. And while mad was trying to steal second Pfeffer muffeil the throw and Miller scored. A wild throw by Dwyer enabled Maul to score. After one man was out in the ninth inning Miller hit to left for a base and Rowe followed with a single to middle, and Miller scored. White's grounder, however, allowed a double play to be made, and the side was retired. was retired at the plate on Hanlon's short hit

THEY GOT DOWN TO WORK

In the second inning the visitors got down to work, and they did business. Farrell commenced the fun by a two-bagger to right field. ras flew out to Maol, and Dwyer cracked out a long single to right, Farrell crossing the plate. Bastian got to first on balls, and Ryan's long fly to Hanlon allowed Farrell to reach third. Van Haltren, that lank young man from the Golden Shore, stepped up to the plate and the Golden Shore, stepped up to the plate and swiped the bail right out to the long grass in deep center field, and reached home before the bail was returned. The score was now 4 to 4. In the next inning the visitors took the lead. Farrell lei off with a good single to left, and got to second on Brown's sacrifice. Dwyer's single sent Farrell to third, and Dwyer was nabbed while playing off first base. Bastian got his base on bails, and R an's single sent Farrell home, and a minute later Bastian got his base on bails, and R an's single sent Farrell home, and a minute later Bastian got his base on bails, and R an's single sent Farrell home. And a minute later Bastian got his base on bails, and R an's single sent Farrell was out Brown hit a single to right. Dwyer and Bastian each got a base on balls, filling the bases. Byan then thumped the ball away for three bases, briuging three men home. Van Haltren got his base on balls and stole second. Ryan scored on Duffy's sacrifice, and Anson's single sent Van Haltren home. Farrell's three-bogger and Dwyer's long fly to Maul enabled the former to score in the eighth inning. McQuaid umpired a good game. Following is the score:

It is a fact, however, that some of the players are to be so'd as soon as possible. There are more players on the club than can be carried and the latest rumor is a good infielder and another player will be traded for a catcher. It is further stated that money will be added to the two players if absolutely necessary. At any rate, efforts are being made to dispose of some of the extra men, and either Kuchne or Smith will be one of the men who will be released.

POP SMITH FOR BOSTON.

The Bean Enters Willing to Pay for a First-Class Shortstop.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 Boston, July 29.-Manager Horace Phillips of the Pittsburg club, came to Boston to-day en route for the White Mountains and Canada, where he will try to get a little rest, but he couldn't drop business altogether, and the re-sult of his visit will be a transfer of Pop Smith Chicago club, was given his base on balls three times, and each time he scored. The fielding of the home players was not of the best. Maul made a brilliant catch in the eighth inning. He ran a long distance and caught a hot liner from Dwyer's bat. Hanlon and Carrell were scarcely up to their standard. The great fault, however, was the ineffective pitching of Sowders. To make a long story short, he was just the kind of man that Anson and his youthful gang are looking for.

Dwyer did not pitch a brilliant game by any means. He was hit hard enough to win ordinarily, taking into consideration the luck that was on the side of Pittsburg. The home players made eight runs, and only one of them was earned. That in no uncertain sound tells how much Dame Fortune helped us. Farrell caught well, and the fielding of the visitors, generally speaking, was good.

The game opened out well for the local team. Hanlon had scarcely got to the plate ore Dwyer it him with the ball. Carroll then rapped a Singgers To-Morrow. At a late hour last evening Manager Phillips wired the information to this city from Boston to the effect that Smith has been released to the Bostons, and will join that club at Boston ol August 1: that is, Thursday. It is not stated whether or not any money has been paid for Smith's release.

The release of Smith will be no surprise to the local baseball public, as THE DISPATCH stated definitely some time ago that as soon as stated definitely some time ago that as soon as Rowe and White got down to work Smith would be released. Pittsburg loses a good and conscientious player, probably one of the most faithful and honorable that ever walked across a manond. Smith has few equals as a fielder, and his weak batting is the only deficiency that mars his work. To-Day's Home Game.

The home team will have another try against the Chicagos to-day. Dunlap will be at his old position—second base, and Smith will be on the bench. Staley and Miller will be the home battery, and Tener and Farrell will represent

JOHN'S ACCOUNT OF IT

Sullivan Tells Why He Didn't Knock Kilrain Ont.

ONLY STAND-UP FIGHTS FOR HIM. Donovan, the American, Beaten by Darrin, the Englishman.

EXCITING RACING AT ST. PAUL Winners at Monmouth and Saratoga-The Philade

phia Cricketers.

Sullivan explains why he didn't knock Kilrain out, and also why he vomited. There was great dissatisfaction at St. Paul races yesterday. The grand stand crowd claimed that a certain race was fixed. Donovan, claimed to be Steve Farrell, the American runner, has been beaten by an Englishman in a half-mile race. The Philadelphia cricketers made a poor show yesterday.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, July 29 .- When Champion John L. Sullivan called at the office of the Illustrated News on Saturday the convic-tion was forced upon his mind that, as sporting editor of the paper, he ought to do some literary work. So he set down at his some literary work. So he set down at his his American supporters. Darrin was born at desk, threw his left leg over the arm of his Sheffield on June 10, 1868, and is just turned chair, put an end of his penholder between his teeth and guzed abstracte ly at the ceiling. But he couldn't collect his thoughts, and, after starting in half : dozen wavs, he tore up the paper that he had blotted and said he guessed he would wait until the next day before composing his piece. On Sunday he cornered an amanuensis, to whom he dictated his article. This extract from it is as it will appear in type: There are thousands of people asking why I did not knock Kürain out in our fight at Richburg, Miss. That was not my game-I Richburg, Miss. That was not my game—I knew after two or three rounds that I was sole master of the situation. In the first round he exhausted his entire strength in throwing me. After that I could feel that he was weak, as his blows lacked torce and punishment. He thought I would play for his head and neck. thereby breaking my hands, but his heart was good enough for me, and a couple of days after the fight my hands were in as good form as ever. If Kilrain had stood up and fought like a man I think I could have whipped him in about eight rounds. I don't blame him at all, under the circumstances, for running away from me, because he knew as well as I that his name was "mud" after the first two or three rounds. Taking everything into consideration he made a pretty game fight for a man who was really not in it. During the whole contest I never received a blow that in any way gave me pain or affected my staying powers. The first blood claimed came from a

The first blood claimed came from a scratch inflicted on my ear by his nails and not from a blow. As to my vomiting in the forty-fourth round it did me more good than harm. Two of my attendants, the gallant little Major Hughes, of Louisville, Ky., and Linney Tracey, between them put too much whisky in my tea. I freshened up considerably after throwing it from the stomach, although I frightened some of my friends at the ring side. The only thing I really suffered from was the intense heat on my back, and if my skin had not been thoroughly tanned during my training I would have been covered with blisters. I suppose Kilrain must have committed $0 or 40 fouls during the battle. I acknowledge only one on my part, and that was when I went down on him in the forty-second round by advice of one of my seconds, who thought I was more apt in ring tricks. I don't like this kind of monkey business, however, and much prefer that men should stand up and fight face to face as I have always done. However, I am through with wrestling; fair, square, stand-up fighting is good enough for me.

So Many Millions of Foreign Capital Are Sent Here to Invest.

IT IS NOT ALL BRITISH BOODLE. The Entire Continent of Europe Shipping

Its Wealth to America. SAFE INVESTMENTS AND GOOD RETURNS

Anticipated in the Event of a Great European War Which is Expected.

One of the reasons why there is so much foreign capital in the United States for investment just now is discovered in the statement that Europe is anticipating the greatest war of modern times, and is preparing for a rainy day.

The following is the London Referee's ac-count of the half-mile race between Donovan, claimed to be Sieve Farrell of this country, WASHINGTON, July 29 .- For some days past an Englishman, a member of one of any time during the past 20 years aroused so much interest as this international one bethe largest firms of solicitors in the city of London, has been the guest of a prominent tween Edward S. Donovan, of America, and Harry Darrin, of Sheffleld, who ran half a mile Washington business man, who has made a level for £50 and the championship, this (Satur-day) afternoon. Donovan, who is a native of America, is less than 24 years of age, 5 feet 10 fortune by dealing in real estate in this city during the last few years. The fact of the Englishman's arrival here was not chronmohes tail, and weighs 11 stone 8 pounds in racing attire, and was trained at Leicester by icled in the society papers, as is the general custom, and although he has explored the city pretty thoroughly in a carriage, on horseback and on foot, he has made few ac-2l years of age. He stands 5 feet 7½ inches, weighs 9 stone 3 pounds in racing trim, and was trained from the Lyceum Hotel, under the charge of Spank Smith, of Sheffield. Owing to quaintunces. The object of the Englishman's visit has, however, leaked out in a roundabout way, and with it some informathe heavy rainfall of the previous night and tion which may be of importance to financial and commercial communities.

The Englishman is a real estate lawyer and well up in matters relating to transfer of property. He came here as the repre-sentative of an English syndicate which is prepared to invest the heavy rainfall of the previous night and Saturday the path was very dead, and the conditions particularly unfavorable for fast time. It was almost 7 o'clock when the men turned out in presence of about 1,000 spectators, the hetting ruling at odds of 3 to 1 on Donovan. When the pistol was fired Darrin went away with a two-yards lead, and was as far in front when the first quarter was completed in 55% seconds. When one lap of the course (450 yards) had been negotiated, Donovan went to the front, and in another 50 yards had assumed a two-yards lead, which he retained until 30 yards from the tape, when Darrin made a great effort, and, the American being dead settled, Darrin won by 5 yards in the fast time of 1 minute 57 1-5 seconds, a wonderful performance considering the heavy state of the path. On the conclusion of the race both men were completely exhausted, and Darrin vomited severely, while Donovan was put to bed. The race was the greatest one witnessed at Sheffield for many years past, and was so satisfactory to George Littlewood, the champion long-distance ped of the world, that he offered to match Darrin to run anyone in the world from half a mile to one mile for £100 a side."

It is alleged that Donovan did not "try" against Darrin, as he, Donovan, is matched to run Tattersail, a quarter of a mile for a big stake. SEVERAL MILLIONS in Washington real estate. His investiga-tions convinced him that there is money to be made out of real estate in this city, and he was preparing to make definite offers when he discovered to his amazement and horror that no alien could obtain title to real estate in the District of Columbia and the Territories except a foreign government purchasing property to be used as a legation or other governmental purposes. This, of course, knocked the scheme in the head for the time being.

The Englishman's host had a pardonable curiosity to know why the English were buying up everything in this country on which they can lay their hands, and he asked him how it was there was so much capital lying idle in Great Britain. His visitor frankly said all these investments were not being made with British capital

THE ENTIRE CONTINENT of Europe was sending money to London to be invested in the United States. The money goes to London because that city is naturally the great financial center of the world. But France, Germany, Italy, and, in fact, the entire continent is interested in the negotiations now pending in various parts of the country for the purchase of industrial concerns.

In the course of conversation the Wash-In the course of conversation the Washingtonian said he was surprised that Europe had so much surplus capital seeking investment, as according to the impression he had derived from reading reports of trade in Europe during the last two years, no great institutions had been making a very great amount of money, and a great many of them, he believed, had been compelled to run on short time at a narrow margin of profit.

A GREAT WAR FEARED.

A GREAT WAR FEARED. The Englishman admitted the truth of the remark, and went on to explain that Great Britain and the rest of continental Europe believed that it was only a question of time before all Europe would be involved in the greatest war the world has ever seen, and to provide for the proverbial rainy day money had been withdrawn from home in-vestments so that it could be invested in this country. The marvelous recuperation shown by this country since the Civil War, and the way it had weathered domestic troubles, had convinced leading financiers of the stability of the American form of government and institutions, and they felt convinced that money invested here would yield a handsome return and the calital be perfectly safe. AMERICA THE GAINER. Another reason for seeking investment here is that in case of war the United States here is that in case of war the United States will alone profit by it, and in proportion as the trade of the rest of the world suffered, America would be the gainer. Consequently European investors in American enterprises will be gainers, and a part of the enhanced prices which they would have to pay for the necessaries of life which would follow on the declaration of war would come back to them in the shape of profits from their American enterprises.

caused poor scering on both sides. For the Americans, Etting and Clark batted well, while Patterson played a patient game, and, after being at the wickets for 2 hours and 20 minutes, carried out his bat for 35 runs. The home team made a total of 108 in their first inning. The score of the visitors was as follows: First, 101; second, 39. An Official and Informal Visit to Riversid Penitentiary. Dr. G. J. McLeod and Cadwallader Biddle, of Philadelphia, and James B. Scott commences to-day and a large number of Pitts-burgers will be present. There are three events on the card, as follows: 2:30 class, trotting, with 14 entries; 2:25 class, pacing, with 17 en-tries; 2:22 class, trotting, with 18 entries. and W. J. Sawyer, of this city, visited the Western Penitentiary yesterday afternoon. The gentlemen are members of the State Board of Public Charities. Messrs. Mc-Leod and Biddle have been making a tour of the institutions in the northern part of the State and have now begun a series of Our Boys Play an Exciting Game and Win visits to those in the southern part. They were shown all over the building by Warden Wright and their inspection occupied about three hours.

When they had completed the rounds they expressed themselves as being very well pleased with what they had seen, and assured Warden Wright that the Western Penitentiary was one of the most com-pletely fitted in the State.

The gentlemen said that this was only an informal visit and that the official visita-tion would be begun in October. From here the two gentlemen from Philadelphia will make a tour of the southern counties.

THEIR FUN DISTURBED. The Orgics of Sixteen Young Men Radely

Sixteen uproarious young men were hav ing a large time in an abandoned quarry near Magee and Bluff streets yesterday afternoon in company with greasy cards and two kegs of sparkling beer, the latter hav-ing been toted into the place and opened for impartial distribution.

The noise attracted an officer's attention.

The noise attracted an officer's attention. He sized up the crowd and went for assistance, and Captain Silvus sent an ample force and the patrol wagon and the revelers passed sadly within the portals of the Central station. They claim that for many years the stone quarry has been their stamping ground and could not understand their arrest. There were 16 offenders, and their arrest claimed the undivided attention of a large crowd.

Injured and in the Hospital. Marion Fling, a resident of Homestead was brought to the West Penn Hospital yesterday from McKeesport, where his spine was injured and one arm crushed on the railroad. James Flacker, a carpenter, of 412 Pearl street, was taken to the same

SOME SCHOOLS MUST GO.

The Soldiers' Orphan Commission Meets and Decides to Knock Out Four of the Present Establishments-Distribution of the Children.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. HARRISBURG, July 29 .- The Soldiers Orphan Commission appointed under a re-cent law, met at the Department of Public Instruction to-day, to determine the soldiers orphan schools that could be advantageously discontinued, and to perform other business devolving on it. Most of the schools were represented before the commission. Ex-Auditor General Niles made a plea for the Mansfield school, and Congressman Askins and Representative Hertzler, of Juniata county, asked that the institution at Mc-Allisterville be retained as one of the soldiers' orphan schools. Pleas were also made for the Mt. Joy and other schools controlled by the syndicate, notwithstanding the fact that the law creating the commission provided that no contracts be made with the proprietors, principals or managers of these institutions. institutions.

The Mt. Joy school, which Governor Pat-tison, a short time before his retirement from office, found to be in a horrible condi-tion, was reported to be a fine educational institution, but the gentleman who presents its claims admitted that the sanitary conditions were susceptible of great improve-ment, and stated that communication had been had with Manager Wright to ascer-tain if he would not be willing to improve the bathing facilities and make other neces-sary changes about the place, if the commis-sion agreed to lease the building. The com-mission adopted a report providing for the appointment of committees to lease build-ings, employ teachers and employes, and purchase supplies.

The commission, after hours of talk on the part of friends of the schools, decided, the part of friends of the schools, decided, by a decisive majority, to knock out Mt. Joy, McAllisterville, Mercer and Chester Springs schools, all of which were largely owned and managed by Senator Wright, of Mercer. The commission also resolved to dispense with the school at Mansfield, Tioga county, because of its inconvenient location.

White Hall, Jumansville and Harford schools will be retained under the management of the commission, and the children who cannot be accommodated at these insti-tutions will be placed in the Butler school, Northern Home and Lovsville school, whose management will be allowed not exceeding $140 a year per pupil. The intention of the commission is to have the children distributed as follows, after the summer vacation, on the 1st of September.

THE CAUSE GREATLY INJURED.

bristian Scientists Suffering Through Mrs Plunkett-Worthington's Actions. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. New YORK, July 29,-Mrs. John J. Plunkett, or Mrs. A. Bentley Worthington, for the press. She thinks the newspapers are inclined to paint her as a vapid senti-mentalist, who unmarried herself from one man and married herself to another out of commonplace human love, instead of principle, and who concealed her lover because she couldn't bear to live without him, as she would have to do if he were jugged for she would have to do if he were jugged for his crimes. The letter closes as follows:

I now declare that as soon as those whose names have been mentioned in the press as having cause for action against Mr. Worthing ton shall have presented their claims to me, fairly and squarely, I will, through the public press of New York City, ask him to return here and thereby prove our faith by our works. If he has the manhood I claim for him he will come when I call him, even if he knew it was to his death. He went away only at my solicitation, and he will more readily return.

"This has done great injury to the cause

"This has done great injury to the cause of Christian science," said Mr. Plunkett to-day. "An estimable lady, a Christian scientist, told me that since all this affair came out she, though innocent of any wrong herself, was unable to gain admission to many respectable homes where she had been more than welcome before. Mrs. Plunkett has noted throughout under an emotional impulse, and she has acted very foolishly. She has lost all but two or three friends, and all her business."

Mr. Plunkett said that Worthington was an opium eater. No answer has been put in on Plunkett's divorce suit. Lawyer Charles A. Hess will move to-morrow, in court, to have a referee appointed.

SUPPOSED TO BE CRAZY. Murderous Assault on a Priest at St. Philo-

mena Church. The congregation at St. Philomena German Catholic Church, corner of Fifteenth street and Liberty avenue, at children's mass yesterday morning were horrified by an unknown man slipping stealthily up to a point near the altar and striking the priest on the head with a boulder. Father Speper was praying at the time with his face to-ward the congregation, and his eyes being closed he did not notice the intruder. The wound inflicted is very painful but not necessarily serious. There was, of course, great excitement There was, of course, great excitement in the congregation. It was composed mainly of children, with some women, and the children screamed as loudly as lung capacity would allow. Several sisters present attended to the priest. Though men were not numerous in the assemblage, the intruder was secured, and in a tew minutes the street along the church was blocked by an immense multitude, the children having scattered in all directions spreading the scattered in all directions spreading the news of the assault.

The man gave the name of J. Manning, and as he could not pay $100 fine imposed by Judge McKenna he was soon on his way to the workhouse.
